

Tents ... Re-enactors ... Action

Re-enactor Mr. Bruce Ryan prepares a World War II-era 10th Mountain Division military police car during the living history display at Fort D.A. Russell Days July 23 through 25.

Members of the Northern Colorado Fife and Drum Corps pose in period costumes during Fort D.A. Russell Days Friday through Sunday. The weekend celebrated Warren's history as an Army post in the late 1800's.

(Above) HaveTentWillTravel Mr. Hank Miller (left) and Mr. Steve Meyers (right) set up a World War II-era field camp that depicts how Soldiers lived in the 1940s while the world was at war. The field camp was part of the living history display at Fort D.A. Russell Days July 23 through 25. (Right) Members from the Northern Colorado Fife and Drum Corps set up camp during Fort D.A. Russell Days July 23 through 25. The 18-member Fife and Drum Corps depicts the 1775 American Revolution.

Three members from the Seventh Cavalry Company D showed off their skills by performing maneuvers complete with their Calvary horses during Fort D.A. Russell Days July 23.

Photos by Airman 1st Class Lauren Sixbey